

loosely based

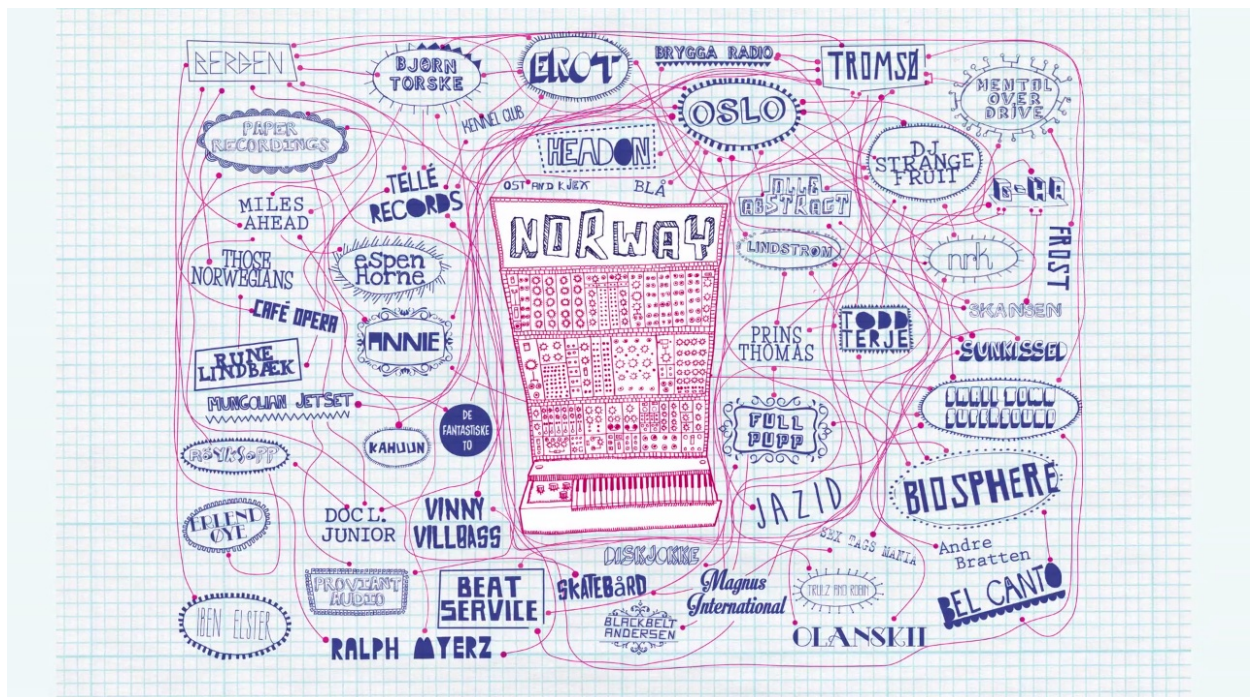

alotofconcordes.tumblr.com/post/166237090060/northern-disco-lights-the-rise-and-rise-of

Full Supp

Northern Disco Lights - The Rise and Rise of Norwegian Dance Music | Paper Vision Films | 2017

Northern Disco Lights tells the untold story of a group of teenagers in the arctic city of Tromsø, who set off a chain of events that would go on to transform their country. To escape the boredom of growing up in a remote outpost they created their own music scene, setting up radio stations, parties, building synthesizers and making tunes. Word spread as like-minded souls recognised the call to arms and inspired a generation of kids who would go on to change dance music and Norway forever.

People often talk about how good French touch was but I always go north-east and think Norway made alot of the best house music.